

Technology Designed For Lovers No Matter How Far Apart

The Onyx and Pearl are the most advanced sex toys for couples, adding a new dimension to adult, online communication. The ability to really touch each other.

These new teledildonic devices enable lovers or partners to be physically intimate like never before, taking the internet beyond just verbal and visual communication and adding a new sense into the mix.

The masturbator and vibrator connect using bluetooth and internet through the Platform.

"This will change sex in cyberspace forever"

- COSMOPOLITAN

Social Platform

We designed a video chat program, similar to Skype or Facetime, that uniquely connects the devices through the internet whilst still using regular video functions.

Devices are connected to a desktop using Bluetooth, then the platform connects the user via the internet.

A unique, numeric code is randomly generated for every session to make sure the platform is totally safe and secure. This code can be sent via text, phone or any other popular application, and typed into the login bar.

This allows both of the users to connect directly with a partner or lover of their choice, from anywhere in the world, within the privacy of their own virtual room.

Devices connect to desktops with Bluetooth

The Devices

Onyx and Pearl are touch sensitive sex toys. When one is used, the other one moves to replicate the feeling.

They're designed for partners or lovers who cannot be together, or during foreplay for a new way to be intimate. By simply connecting the devices via the Platform, it is possible to use Onyx & Pearl online to control the sexual stimulation of your partner or lover.

The Onyx, with Fleshlight® inside, has a discreet design with revolutionary technology inside, that replicates intimacy to stimulate men online. Onyx is a two-way device, as it can send data to other Onyx by stroking the touch pad, as well as receive data from Pearl and Onyx.

The Pearl puts the power in the female's hands. With a one-way connection, it sends data to the Onyx device to stimulate men, but does not receive any movement. Instead it has a high quality, vibrating motor inside and hygiene silicone on the outside, so it can also be used like a normal vibrator to reach the point of climax.

Packaging

The packaging reflects the products inside, with a high quality, sophisticated finish that will stand out from the crowd. These boxes are made to keep!

The whole KIIROO experience starts when the customer is buying the product in-store, so we aim to please from the very moment they set eyes on us.

With a soft-touch casing, there will be no mistaking which boxes are made by KIIROO. There will always be a discreet logo, so the box can be re-purposed for bedroom toys, jewellery and other accessories. We designed them to be touched & admired by everyone.

"KIIROO & Fleshlight together will be the start of a unique relationship between people online."

- Brian Shubin, Fleshlight CCO
